

Another member of the Locke family of Algeo died last week of smallpox, the victim this time being a girl about eight years old.