

Fead-Sparling

One of the most pleasing social events of the season was the marriage of Dr. Geo. A. Fead, formerly of Lexington, to Miss Anna M. Sparling of Mt. Clemens.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. G. E. Ackerman, at six o'clock, Wednesday evening June 20th, at the home of the bride's mother in the latter village.

The bride was for a time a resident of Lexington, her father now deceased, being the then resident M. R. minister. The groom is the youngest of a family of nine, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Fead of this village. It was here that the groom first met and loved his future wife, for it was a love match pure and simple, one that has stood a ten year test with never a break.

Immediately after the ceremony a dainty supper was served and the young couple left the same evening for Niagara Falls, and will shortly return to Lexington. After a brief stay here they will proceed by lake to Detroit, thence to Peop, North LaSalle, where Dr. Fead is engaged in the practice of dentistry, and where they will start house keeping in their own home, just built and furnished.

Dr. and Mrs. Fead are popular in society and noted for many excellent qualities. They possess those traits that bring the sunlight into life and tinge the shadows with soft color. All of their friends wish them well, and may the sun of their prosperity and happiness long rest at high noon.
