On Tuesday of this week a committee appointed by the Ladies' Literary Club of the city presented to the public school seven beautiful pictures—Longfellow, The Pathenon, Niagara, The Angelus, Can't You Talk? Madonna of the Chair, and Spring. The teachers and pupils appreciate this elegant gift. The development of the intellectual and moral side of life is equally as important. Beautiful surroundings develop the finer feelings and a conception of what is beautiful strengthens and supports the moral natures. One of the functions of the public school is to inculcate the spirit of good citizenship and there is no question but that there will be better citizens twenty years from now because those pictures have been placed before the boys and girls of the public school of Hope. We hope every parent will visit the school and examine them. Again we thank you.
