

C. S. Moores reports work on the electric light project progressing nicely. A crew of men are at work digging the holes for the poles and the other work is being pushed as fast as possible. There seems to be some delay in shipping the poles, they were ordered about a month ago. More electricians are expected shortly and the work of wiring will be pushed. If there are no further delays in getting material everything will be ready by Xmas week.