

Andrew Arestad accidentally shot himself in the right shoulder last Sunday the premature discharge of his gun while getting out of a buggy in which he was riding with three companions. Luckily the wound is not serious but the discharge of the gun came pretty near getting one of the other fellows. Dr. Brimi dressed the wound.