

USEN 10 10.

The Piatt Electric Company have been having lots of trouble for a few days but we hope that they have surmounted them now and that from this on they will have smoother sailing. The new outfit recently installed bucked on them for a couple of days and there were no lights. The big producer had settled and opened up some joints letting the gas escape out of the top instead of through the engine. The leaks are fixed now and the plant is running nicely.
