

The electric light plant has been running along very nicely the past month and it now seems as if the company had got through with their troubles. This state of affairs is gratifying not only to the company but to the consumers.