

The COURIER learns with regret of the death of the fifteen year old son of Mr. and Mrs. James Gimblett, of Estervan, Can. It appears that the boy was returning home from town with a load of lumber. A gang plow was also hitched to the end of the wagon. The boy was found lying unconscious by the road side a week ago last Saturday and died the following Tuesday without having regained consciousness. It is surmised that the team ran away and threw the boy out and that he was probably struck by the plow as his head was badly bruised in several places. This is indeed a very hard blow to Mr. Gimblett and family who have the sympathy of a wide circle of friends in and around Cooperstown.
