

Coroner Bergstrom and Sheriff Flynn went out into Broadview township last week and brought back the skeleton of a man that had been found in a gravel pit. The body had been buried about eighteen inches from the surface and several days ago was dug up by a man who went after a load of gravel. No clue as to the identity of the man found has yet been secured. Coroner Bergstrom informs us that a man disappeared from that neighborhood very mysteriously about fourteen years ago and it is thought that the bones found might be his. The officials are trying to obtain information in regard to the matter but it is doubtful if anything tangible can be secured as there was nothing found to indicate who it was, the bones being perfectly clean and dry, not even a bit of cloth or clothing being found.
