

The body of a Syrian peddler was found in the Sheyenne river near the Ottawa bridge north of Cooperstown last week. His pockets contained about $50 in cash, but nothing could be found by which his name or home could be learned.