

A Grand Wedding.

As the wheel of time never ceases the catalog of events is never complete. One more was added to the list of the beautiful on Wednesday, June 28th, when Mr. Wm. A. McCulloch of Cooperstown, son of Mr. and Mrs. McCulloch of Jessie, and Miss Mary Tufteland of Ottofy, Nelson county, were united in the bonds of holy matrimony in the Bue Lutheran church, the Rev. H. Styles Harris, of Cooperstown, officiating. The church was suitably decorated for the occasion and seated to its utmost capacity. As the happy couple wended their way to the altar to become man and wife, Mr. J. B. Rickford played the wedding march, and the church bells rang out their merry chimes till our hearts began to feel a thrill of joy and "gladness in remembrance." The bride was beautifully adorned in a cream silk dress with a wax wreath of orange blossom made by Mrs. Harstad.

The bride was attended by her three sisters, Miss Liddy attired in light green silk, Miss Clara in pink silk and Miss Serena in light blue silk. The bridegroom attired in usual black, was attended by his younger brother, Norman, and two brothers of the bride, Hogan and Adolph Tufteland. A little boy by the name of Harry Harstad carried the ring on a dish; Misses Hazel Burk and Cleo Burns were flower girls dressed in pure white, carried two baskets of flowers consisting of roses, carnations and ferns.

After the wedding ceremony the many guests turned their footsteps towards the home of the bride where a tent was erected and a sumptuous wedding dinner was provided and enjoyed by all present. The bride was the recipient of many valuable and useful presents. She is a popular and influential lady of Nelson county. The bridegroom is widely known around this vicinity and very highly esteemed, a clean, upright and honest young man, one of our Griggs county successful farmers, living only four miles north of town in Tyrol township, where they will make their future home. In conclusion, much credit and praise is due to Mrs. Harstad who so ably superintended the whole proceedings.

The Sentinel join in wishing them the best of this world's goods during a long and happy life.
