

It is supposed that a couple of panthers got away from Golimar Bros.' circus at Devils Lake this summer just gone by. Well, it is now claimed that those beasts have been roaming around Steele county and have been eating up a calf occasionally with a young pig or two for a side dish. The Erickson boys who live east of town down by the river claim to have seen a couple of animals that looked like panthers early this fall and lately Paul Piatt claims to have heard some animal screaming in the woods that must be a panther. Of course this might have been an old tom cat that put Paul's hair up straight. They will holler—especially at night. Hunting parties have been up and down the river but the big beasts have not been taken. Jake Arnold and Paul Paulson are talking of going after the panthers, which is a cinch that they will be taken.
