

Farmers Institute.

The farmers institute on Tuesday was largely attended by the farmers coming in from all directions. Prof. Thos. Shaw, of Minneapolis gave some instructive talks on our soil culture, live stock and farm crops and the farmers asked him many questions of interest in farm work. Mrs. Adda F. Howie, of Elm Grove, Wis., gave some fine talks on dairying, poultry culture and farm homes. She is an able speaker on these subjects and owns a fine herd of Jerseys, of which she is very proud. The institute should last two or three days to make it a success. One day is altogether too short.
