

Mr. Parsons, the new manager of the telephone company, is starting in as if he meant business. He has put on two extra linemen and the entire system will be gone over and the damage of the November storm repaired and the lines put in first-class shape.