

Evelyn Simpson, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Simpson was taken sick last Thursday and upon investigation the doctors found it to be a mild case of diphtheria. Proper steps, in the way of fumigation and quarantine, were taken to prevent a spreading of the disease. The case responded promptly to the use of antitoxine and at the present writing is well and no more cases have developed.