

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

Five new pupils have entered the high school in the past week, as follows: Emma Lang, Howard Houghton, Theodore Herigstad, George Vikingstad, Edward Pfeiffer. This brings the enrollment up to 70.

Pearl Davidson, who has been ill for several weeks, returned to school Monday.

Mrs. Blackwell was a visitor at opening exercises a few days ago.

Friday was the last day of the month. All pupils who have done sufficiently good work to be excused, and have not been tardy, nor absent more than one-half day, are given a half holiday on the last afternoon. A large per cent of the high school pupils gained this holiday.

The drawing class are now doing work in metallurgy. They are making bar pins and belt buckles in etchings in brass and silver.

The most advanced class in sewing are working on fancy stitches and embroidery.

The high school now has a daily paper on the reading table in the Minneapolis Journal. This with a number of periodicals gives the pupils an opportunity of keeping informed on current history. Every Friday morning two members of the school give a summary of current events for the week.
