

Albert Dahl's oldest boy Sylvian, fell out of a buggy while playing in same and struck on the pole, breaking both bones in his arm just below the elbow. He was brought in to Dr. Almklov, who set the bones.