

Mrs. Wm. Stringer met with a peculiar accident a few days ago. She got up in the night and walked in her sleep going out on the upstairs porch and fell off, falling to the ground heavily. She was unconscious for some time and received internal injuries but it is hoped that she has not suffered any permanent or serious injury. At the present time we understand she is doing well and her many friends hope that she will soon be up again.