

—Two cars loaded with the engine and dynamo for the electric lighting plant arrived here last week and the work of installing the plant is going forward as rapidly as possible, but it will require a couple weeks yet before it will be started. The shipping weight of the whole outfit was given as 64,000 pounds. The engine is a monster and if it doesn't make the old world tip toward Cooperstown a little we miss our guess.