

Ole O. Berg Saltre, who has been working for Conrad Colberg on the J. N. Brown farm, died last Friday morning from acute tuberculosis and pneumonia. He was a new comer and had arrived from Norway only four weeks ago. He was 19 years old. The deceased walked into town on the afternoon prior to his death to see a doctor. He has a brother working for J. H. Langford who took charge of the remains which were laid to rest in the cemetery Saturday afternoon.
