

B. A. Parsons received a 'phone message Thursday morning from Page announcing the death of his aunt, Mrs. Wilson Parsons. Mrs. Parsons had only been sick since the Sunday previous. She was a very estimable lady and the editor was very nicely entertained at her home only a short time ago. We regret exceedingly to hear of her death.