

Martin Mossings little boy Christian whom we reported sick in January last died Monday the 21st. He had then been sick for about eight months. As his real sickness was consumption of the lungs, medical skill could do very little for him. Little Christian was only five years when he died. Funeral took place the 23rd and although it was right in the busy season a large crowd of friends and neighbors attended the funeral.