

—While enroute from Jack N. Brown's farm to B. B. Brown's homestead with a load of hay, Wednesday afternoon during the storm. Geo. McCormick and M. J. Newson saw a fair sized buffalo. They were quite close to the wild ox before it took fright and sped for the Sheyenne woods, but had no rifles with which to drop the beast. Gunning parties are now in order.