

At an adjourned meeting of the city council last Friday night J. A. Moffatt was awarded the contract for putting in the crossings and other cement work for the city, he being the lowest bidder. The council has been sitting as a board of equalization the past few days.