

The Catholic church at Jessie will be dedicated today. Bishop Shanley and other high dignitaries of the church will be present to take part in the dedication. It is expected that there will be a large number of the Catholics of the county present on this occasion.