

The boy scouts are getting busy these days. Last Saturday they had a meeting and organized into four patrols, a full list of the organization will be given later. There are now about thirty boys in the movement and many more will join from day to day as the movement becomes popular. The new skating rink is in running order and furnishes the boys lots of recreation. C. A. Hall has been making the rink his special care and he takes considerable delight in trying to get things fixed up right for the boys. Mr. Hall is strictly in it when it comes down to helping out the children, and no matter whether it is hot or cold, rain or snow he is willing to give his time and energy in helping things along.
