

At the last meeting of the board of county commissioners held Tuesday of this week, Commissioner R. L. Jones handed in his resignation on account of his moving out of the district. Mr. Jones is now assistant cashier of the First National Bank of that city and will move to that city with his family. He has made a splendid commissioner and served the public well. The board has elected B. N. Howden as his successor and in so doing have made a splendid and satisfactory choice. Mr. Howden is one of the pioneer farmers of Mabel township, is a level headed business man, and we are sure will make a good public official. Here's our best wishes to the old commissioner and the new.
