

The Farmers' Institute train will arrive at Cooperstown on June 27 and will remain here from 2 to 5 of that day, during which time the institute conductors in charge of the train will lecture and demonstrate to those who visit the train. Accompanying this special will be several magazine and newspaper writers and it is up to the people of Cooperstown and Griggs County to see that a good crowd is present. Cooperstown has the name of being one of the cleanest and neatest towns in the state and that reputation has already reached the magazine writers that will visit us on that date. Let us be prepared to sustain that reputation by keeping up our residence properties and giving the press boys a glimpse of a neat and well kept little city. The advertising the town will get from this visit is hard to calculate but it is a sure thing that it will amount to a whole lot. Remember June 27 and come in and see the train.
