

Charley Mendenhall, who has been ^{employed} engineer at the electric light plant for the past two years, has resigned his job and will try his hand at running a threshing engine during the threshing season.