

—A very sad casualty was the death by lightning on Monday of Rev. E. Prindle and his son-in-law H. M. Covell, of Sanborn. The men were lathing in a new house being erected by Mr. Covill when a discharge of atmospheric electricity struck the building, shattering it considerably and instantly killing both men. Mrs. Prindle was sitting on some staging not five feet from the men, but escaped unharmed, save a severe shock.
