

Mrs. Huntley, a former resident of Cooperstown, died on Friday last at the residence of her son in Fargo, N. D. The remains were brought to this city on Monday and were interred in the town cemetery beside the grave of her husband, who was buried there several years ago. The remains were accompanied by her two sons and daughter-in-law. The services were conducted at the cemetery by the Rev. J. Chas. Evans, pastor of the Congregational Church.
