

Monday.

A serious accident happened to Mrs. S. R. Kline and daughter Monday evening, as they were coming through the Sheyenne bluffs between Tolna and Mose. The exact particulars are not known in full. This much has been learned, that they drove a span of young horses, the neck yoke broke dropping the pole which stuck in the ground and upset the buggy. The occupants were thrown out. The daughter and a small child escaped serious injury, but Mrs. Kline died shortly after at the home of Mr. Halvorson. The Klines live three and one half miles south of here.
