

A blacksmith by the name of Logan, who has been working for the Farmers Blacksmith & Supply Co. for a few days, died last Saturday morning from pneumonia and other complications. He was only sick two days. He was a stranger here and the authorities have been unable to find any of his people. He was buried in the cemetery at this place Tuesday.