—Another runaway occurred on our streets on Monday afternoon. Jesse Bugbee, of Sherbrooke, had loaded his wagon with coal, lumber, dry goods, groceries, etc., preparatory for starting home, and in an unlucky moment left his team standing in front of Wamberg & Jacobson's store without tying them. They took fright at some object and started off with a bound, and before anybody could reach them they were beyond control. They dashed around the corner of Steele avenue, and ran almost to the railway track before they were stopped. No damage.
