
COLGATE.

Editor Pioneer:

Here I am, with you again.

As "Uno" has been doing so nicely, and as I believe it correct to de locum melioribus, once in a while. I have been laying back on my oars," for a time.

Major Gray, who returned from the East a week or two ago, is still with us.

Mr. William Pope, the energetic agent for the "Aermotor windmill" has received word that his wife who is residing in the East and who has been in delicate health for some time is worse. He expects to start East in a week or so. The sympathy of the entire community go with him, and may it please our loving and merciful Father to restore her soon to health.

By the way good people of Colgate, do not accuse innocent persons of writing these articles. Hunt the guilty one out, and go for him (or her), but do leave the innocent alone.

Our whole souled Postmaster, Wm. Orser, made a business trip to Sherbrooke last Tuesday.

Our part of the country was visited by a gentleman, living north of Hope, last Tuesday who claimed to be "insuring lives and breaking colts." A good combination. We wondered if he took the precaution of insuring his own life before commencing the difficult task of breaking colts to the harness.

More Anon.
