

Major Edwards has returned from the East, and the Argus is soon to appear in a brand new dress, with all the latest improvements, improved news service, and everything to render it a first-class metropolitan daily—a kind of bridesmaid to Miss North Dakota when she is wedded to Uncle Sam, as it were.