

---

—Tomorrow is the glorious Fourth of July, the day in which all loyal Americans celebrate the National Independence of these United States. Some enthuse with "bug juice," others with fire-crackers, but the true and loyal citizens gather together all over the Union, and listen to patriotic speeches and songs and endeavor to instill in the minds and hearts of the rising generation the love of freedom and the patriotic fires of enthusiasm and love for our great and glorious country. The most of our people are celebrating at Spiritwood, at the G. A. R. encampment this year. Broad-lawn citizens have prepared a splendid program and celebrate in the beautiful grove adjacent to the residence of Mr. C. L. Pratt, southeast of this place, and they expect to have a fine time. Hatton celebrates in true old-fashioned style, and Hillsboro also sets the eagle upon the perch to scream.

---