

—The train on the Hope branch again was derailed when on its way down one week ago yesterday. The tender this time jumped the track, and passengers were delayed all that night near Absaraka, not getting away until noon of the next day. Our ornamental board of railroad commissioners probably do not know that the track of the Hope branch is unsafe—probably do not wish to know it—but—well, will anyone undertake to define their duty? or is their office just one of the many for the purpose of seeing that the state treasury does not overflow—and is this what they are elected for? Any information on the subject will be gladly received by our suffering people.
