

SCHOOL NEWS,

Contributed by the Scholars.

The intermediate department obtained the April half-holiday.

The primary and intermediate departments have lately given the floors of their respective rooms a scrubbing.

April was the poorest month of the year for studying, outdoors (a portion of the time) becoming more attractive than indoors.

Arbor day was to have been duly observed by the school, but the inclement weather prevented. Short exercises, appropriate to the day, however, were conducted in the different departments.

The entertainment to be given by the Debating Club Saturday evening, May 7th, will consist of a debate, readings, recitations, music, and an essay. Admission free.
