

—T. E. Norgord has sold out his business to Stewart & Drew. We understand from J. M. Stewart who closed the deal that it is the intention of the new firm to continue handling flour and feed, and that a full line of furniture will be put in as soon as possible. They will handle some of the best sewing machines in the market, and will be always ready to take your order for organs or pianoes. Joe says, he will still be found doing work around his barber's chair and it is his intention to fit up a corner for a shop.
