

The barn of Herbert Church living north of here and west of Cooperstown was struck by lightning last Friday and burned, cremating nine horses.