

Bernard McGuire Dead.

Bernard McGuire died at the Green hospital this afternoon of congestion of the brain. He is said to have received a severe blow on the back of the neck or head when at a Polish dance north of this city a few days ago. He was brought or came to Jamestown, staying at the Wisconsin house. He rapidly grew worse and was then removed to the hospital. He was delirious much of the time.

McGuire is said to have been employed at the Paul Durnpt farm all winter and when at a wedding got into some kind of a mix-up in which he received an injury. Who struck him or how it hapmorning was very sick with what they thought was pneumonia. He was taken to the hospital the next day.—Jamestown Capital, Mar 14.

A "Y" at Rogers.

That a "Y" will be put in at Rogers where the N. P. crosses the Soo Line, is now assured, and much good will result therefrom to the people living along the Soo Line between Rogers and Carrington.

Mr. Clendening, while attending the recent legislative session, presented the matter to the railroad commissioners and the following letter is self explanatory:

LaMoure, N. D., Mar. 15, 1905.

HON. R. CLENDERING,
Wimbleton, N. Dak.

My Dear Clendening: While in St. Paul on Friday, March 3rd, I took up
