

Little Marion Hanson is reported to be improving daily. Last Saturday the attending physician pronounced that the child had diphtheria in a very mild form and quarantined the home. Her chances for recovery are said to be very good.