

LEAL LOCALS.

The extreme cold snap and high wind caused many who were running their threshing crews to lay off last Monday.

School commenced here Monday under the principalship of Miss Myers and Miss Keim as preceptress. The usual attendance is reported.

Everybody knows that No. 106, the last train going east on the Soo, has very recently changed time, and now runs thirty minutes later than formerly.

Everett Lundy and also August Peterson had congratulatory returns on their wheat crop, both averaging at least 14 bushels and of good quality considering the estimated shortage of the crop, throughout the state.

The Nix Family show held the boards at Society Hall for two nights the latter part of last week. The show was good, but it ran up against hard luck on the second night and the crowd failed to materialize, however, the receipts of the first night reimbursed their exchequer, and the gate receipts netted about $24.00. This is a good show town, but the time of year when the people are so very busy in their important harvest, handicaps any show that may come, no matter how good it is.
