

A. F. Mayer and Turner Moore are congratulating themselves upon their fortunate escape from what might have been a more serious affair. On Sunday last while driving one of D. B. Berlin's livery teams the horses became unmanageable just as they were leaving Leal and ran away. The buggy was overturned and the boys were dragged several feet in the buggy top before it broke away. The horses ran into a wire fence around the Bacon farm and were caught there without serious injury. The boys returned to Wimbledon that evening via the Soo Line Flyer.
