

August Netting's condition is rather serious and he may have to undergo an operation and have his right leg amputated. He has recovered from the typhoid fever which leaves him very weak. We all hope for the best—and that it will not be necessary to operate.