

In a letter to the writer from H. G. Ahern who is now at Claresholm, Alberta, he writes the following: "Well we are pretty happy now for on Friday, the 31st, Sir R. Stork, King of the Kak. E. Yoks, arrived and deposited to our account an 8½ pound boy. He has a nose like Richard Croker, a foot like a skie, a hand like his dad and is good natured like his mamma. We have named him Sunny Southern Alberta H. G. Marion J. Ahern. We both feel about 3½ inches taller now."

It has been frequently suggested