

Inez Atwood departed Tuesday morning for Jamestown where she will enter the Jamestown college and finish her fourth year of high school work. She will also take up vocal music in addition to her other work. Miss Atwood is one of the first pupils from Courtenay to enter the college but it is expected that several others will take up a course there soon, and Courtenay will, no doubt, be well represented in the student body of that organization.