

E. J. Woodward, Roy Beach and Mont Clark departed last week for the logging district near Black Duck, Minn. They shipped down about 30 head of horses which will be used for hauling logs during the winter. The conditions in the woods are greatly improved over that of last year owing to the early snow and cold weather and the wages paid both men and teams is considerably better.