

John and Thomas Crawford loaded their personal effects into a car and left for Canada yesterday to carve out their fortune under the banner of the Union Jack. Here's hoping that they will fill their barrels and be happy and contented for the balance of their days.